Secrets of the Movies Revealed

Q.—What gratifying discovery did the location manager of a big picture company make in California?

A.—In searching for a suitable scene for the background of a new picture, the manager came across mountains, woods, villages and hamlets such as might be found in many parts of old Europe. The background he particularly sought was a Balkan scene. He found not only this, but others equally charming and wonderfully adapted to the needs of picture producers.

Q.—What actor who has been a sensation in "The Hairy Ape," Eugene O'Neill's stage play, has a part in John Barrymore's "Sherlock Holmes"?

A.—Louis Wolheim, whose first stage appearance was with Lionel Barrymore in "The Claw."

Screen

BLACKSTONE

One of the biggest events in screen and theatrical history, "The Masquerader," will be seen on the Blackstone screen for the rest of this week, starting today. Once in a while, a really great photo is made. And the making of a real screen masterpiece—everything—the story, acting, direction, settings, and photography must be just right. "The Masquerader" is such a masterpiece. Now the world's strangest love story by Katherine Cecil Thurston, that has thrilled millions; the famous stage play, in which the greatest actor Guy Bates Post was seen in and won world-fame is to be seen in picture form, that is bigger and better, more thrilling and exciting than the book, or the stageplay.

Special cards have been made for the people who wish to enter the contest now at the Blackstone theater entitled "Who's Who in South Bend." Cards can be obtained from the doorman.

LA SALLE

"The Dictator," Wallace Reid's latest Paramount picture will be seen for the last time at the LaSalle today. This is a romantic story of a carefree, young American who goes south, for three reasons: First, escape work; second, to get out of paying his $60 tax bill, and third to follow a beautiful girl whom he has fallen in love with. The action is rapid and many of the situations are thrilling.

On Thursday the LaSalle will show an interesting photoplay, on modern domestic trouble, "Trust Your Wife," with an all star cast interpreting the various parts.

MEDITATIONS OF A MARRIED WOMAN

In the South Sea Islands, women may do the pursuing; but in civilized society every man is a little Mahomet, when a woman is wise enough to play the role of the coy, old mountain.

There is nothing on earth which a woman envies a man so much as that "brand new" look he has just after a shave and a haircut.

Perhaps the reason why "woman's work is never done" is because every man's motto around the house is, "Never do anything today that you can get a woman to do for you tomorrow."

Some men are born for matrimony; some achieve matrimony—but most of them are merely poor dodgers.

A highly intelligent woman is one who is intelligent enough to come to a man for advice about things, which she understands better than he does.

When a man begins thinking of those two varietists, Solon and Henry VIII, as "poor old dubs" instead of as "lucky dogs" or "wise guys" it is a sign that he is in the warring mood.

Whenever a pretty girl runs her fingers through her hair, a cautious bachelor can't help thinking subconsciously of what happened to Samson.

It is an awful surprise to a man to discover how mean and contemptible he is when he hears his wife's lawyer describing him in a divorce court.

Many a man fancies that his heart is dead when some woman's indifference or deceit has merely shocked his conceit into a state of temporary paralysis.

In order to be a convincing lover a man should lie very seldom—very hard and very thoroughly.

LOCAL PAPERS WIDELY READ.

When responses to announcements exclusively published in the South Bend papers are received from Indianapolis, Chicago and other distant cities it would indicate that the merits of London's Prescription 1922 as a rheumatic remedy are unusual. Hundreds of South Bend and Mishawaka people have found this remedy of lasting benefit. It goes directly to the spot where the pain is and gives almost instant relief. The benefits are lasting. It is not a potent medicine but an individual prescription put up for each person. For sale in Mishawaka at Red Cross Pharmacy; in South Bend at American Drug store; Central Drug store and London's, 211 Michigan & Wayne sts. Price 25¢. Cash or write. Adv.—273-4f.

Stage

"It certainly is a grand show."

That was the way the dramatic critic for "Life" summed up his review of "The Bat," by Mary Roberts Rinehart, and Avery Hopwood.

Q.—What child actor scored a big hit in "A Little Child Shall Lead Them?"

A.—Jimmy Lapeley showed such talent that great things are predicted for him.

Q.—How did Patsy Ruth Miller begin her career in the movies?

A.—Patsy, whom papers insist at times in calling Patsy—began her movie career as an extra.

What interests the public most in the film? A prominent director gives his opinion in the answer which will be published tomorrow. (Copyright, 1922, Thompson Feature Service).

SOUSA'S BAND

Several seasons of appearances as the soprano soloist with Sousa and his band have broadened the art and widened the experience and fame of Miss Marjorie Moody, who will come with the distinguished leader and composer to South Bend for his concert at the High school auditorium next Saturday evening. Miss Moody hails from Boston, and it was in that city that she took her first steps in her chosen profession of music. But all America takes pride in her, for her training and professional engagements have been wholly in this country. There was
